

CONNECTING ON SOS DAY & TRACKING YOUR INVOLVEMENT

On the first day of class, you have a chance to meet with and learn more about the various Student Organizations and Services available here at ASU through SOS Day, an information and activity fair hosted by OARS at Washington Hall. Take this valuable opportunity to become more involved with campus life and enrich your college experience. Use the cards below to write down information you learned about four different organizations and/or student services.

Halfway through the semester, look back at what you wrote concerning SOS Day on the first day of classes. Have you followed through with any of the plans you made on that day? Which organizations or services have you participated in or utilized during the term. On the cards below, update any information you have had the opportunity to learn about four different organizations and/or student services during the first half of the term.
