

To whom it may concern:

All of us in the ASU community recognize that the performance of the ADP data processing system has been abysmal in the University System of Georgia. However, the AAUP@ASU chapter of the American Association of University Professors would like to thank all of those people who have buffered us against the severe shortcomings of ADP. We are grateful for our on-time paychecks and for the assistance we get towards properly entering required data. Thank you HR, Business Office, and all others.
