Extra students:

NOTE: (a) Extra students should find a lab team with fewer than four members and join the team to make a fourth member. (b) No team should have more than four members. (c) Any student absent for the lab should not be listed on the word processed lab report and will not receive lab credit. (d) Immediately after forming the lab team, get to a campus computer and download the directions for the India Lab to be found in the India material on the Prinsky Humanities 2001 webpage. Follow the directions for your particular lab team, including word processing and e-mailing the lab report. (e) Make sure that the team stays together, all gathering at the same computer or computer lab. (f) If a team is required to use the Sayre art book, and no member of the team has the book (or required pages from the book), one member of the team will have to check the book out from the Reserve desk at the ASU library (or the team can assemble at the ASU library to use the book checked out at the Reserve desk. (g) The lab report is due (e-mailed as per instructions on the Prinsky Humn. 2001 webpage for the India Lab) anytime between the end of the lab period today or 4:30 p.m. today. Remember to use Dr. Prinsky's non-aug.edu e-mail address when e-mailing the report (as directed by the instructions for the lab reports).
